MEMORANDUM FOR: DEPUTY DIRECTOR (INTELLIGENCE)

25X1A9a

1. Before leaving [REDACTED] I discussed with [REDACTED] the idea of establishing additional [REDACTED] on the periphery of the 25X1A8a Soviet orbit. We agree that small analytical units can make a great contribution to the US intelligence effort by providing analytical support for operations, by supplying [REDACTED] and other Washington offices with current intelligence, and by performing a number of other less clearly defined tasks. We believe that analytical personnel, at any given level, will have a clearer understanding of developments in a country if they are physically located as close to the target area as possible.

2. In order to function properly, the units must be kept small and must be staffed by fully competent personnel. Personnel should be supplied by [REDACTED] should be assigned to [REDACTED] 25X1A2d1 for their overseas tours, and should attend the [REDACTED] training course 25X1A2d1 before departure. It is believed desirable, if possible, for [REDACTED] to 25X1A2d1 provide the unit chief and [REDACTED] the deputy.

3. Although firm T/O's cannot be established without an on-the-spot survey to determine the availability of information, requirements for liaison and operational support, etc., the following tentative tables are suggested based on experience in [REDACTED] 25X1A6a
